

RESOLUTION NO. 207759 APR 17 1973

WHEREAS, on September 15, 1972, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers presented to Council a number of flood control alternatives for the San Diego River in Mission Valley; and

WHEREAS, at request of Council, the City Manager prepared, and presented to Council on January 15, 1973, a task force report which reviewed, compared and ranked the nine alternatives; and

WHEREAS, at today's hearing, April 17, 1973, Council considered the alternative solutions to the flood control problems in Mission Valley as proposed by the Corps of Engineers;
NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Council of The City of San Diego, as follows:

1. Council finds and determines that the concept of flood control embodied in Alternative V, namely, the creation of additional flood control storage in the upstream basin of the San Diego River through construction of new dams in the area of the existing San Vicente and El Capitan dams, and a grass-lined entrenched earth swale in Mission Valley, is the most preferable solution for flood control protection.

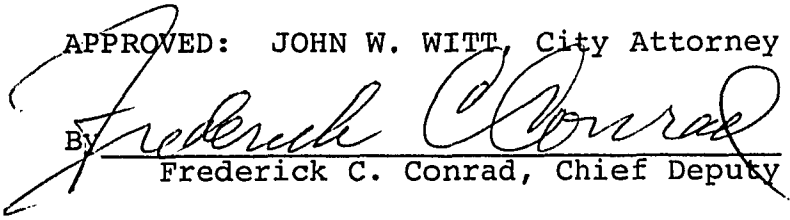

2. The County Board of Supervisors is hereby urged to consider co-sponsorship of a request to the Corps of Engineers to perform a detail study on the concepts embodied in Alternative V.

3. The Corps of Engineers is hereby requested to commence, at the earliest possible date, an engineering and cost feasibility study of the upstream retention proposal, Alternative V.

4. City staff is hereby directed to work with the Corps of Engineers relative to the analysis and development of a program for specific improvements within the Mission Valley area, including type and extent, and acquisition and improvement financing.

5. City staff is directed to prepare a floodplain management program for Mission Valley to serve as an interim measure pending completion of improvements, or as a permanent solution for those portions of the valley in which no improvements would be proposed.
