Adopted on AUG 1 1979

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Council of The City of San Diego as follows:

In response to Section 21081 of the California Public Resources Code, I present the following findings to be used in the certification of E.I.R. 79-03-24 and in the project approval process:

Noise - Mitigating measures have been included in the project which will lower interior noise levels to insignificance. These include: siting of the residential units to avoid high noise areas as much as possible; architectural treatments such as insulation, double pane glass and window placement to lessen sound transmission to the interior of the units, and reducing noise levels on-site by using noise attenuators such as berms and walls. Reduction of vehicular noise production is within the purview of other governmental agencies.

Air Quality - Mitigation of the long-term effect of the project on air quality is dependent on the continued implementation of the Regional Air Quality Strategy by governmental agencies and landowners. A mitigating measure which would reduce the effect of roadway generated pollutants on project residents, air conditioning with electrostatic air cleaners, is economically unfeasible in respect to current market conditions with high construction costs and low rents.

The other issues discussed in the E.I.R.: Land use, Traffic Circulation, Visual Quality, Biological Resources and Archaeological Resources, were found to have no significantly adverse effects.
