“LYME DISEASE AWARENESS MONTH”

Presented by Councilmember Brian Maienschein

Whereas, Lyme Disease is a disease transmitted by the bite of an infected western black-legged tick that has been found in all but two counties of California, including San Diego; and

Whereas, these ticks are carried by mice, rabbits, squirrels, deer birds and other forms of wildlife and domestic animals into backyards and homes, as well as outlying fields and forests where people work or recreate; and

Whereas, traditional methods of removing embedded ticks by burning, twisting, suffocating, or mutilating are dangerous and can increase the risk of acquiring the infection; and

Whereas, ticks are so small and hard to detect that most people who get Lyme Disease do not recall being bitten and most do not develop the characteristic rash; and

Whereas, Lyme Disease affects the brain, heart, joints, and other body organs and mimics many other diseases, and patients are often misdiagnosed with more familiar conditions including depression, rheumatoid arthritis, chronic fatigue, fibromyalgia, multiple sclerosis, or psychiatric illness; and

Whereas, there are fewer than 30 “Lyme-literate” physicians in clinical practice in California, and the lack of physicians is the major cause of undertreatment of Lyme Disease victims; and

Whereas, the Padgett family has started the Lyme Disease Support Group in Scripps Ranch to spread awareness in San Diego and prevent others from experiencing this avoidable disease, they currently have 50 members and host “tick talks” to educate various groups about Lyme Disease; and

Whereas, they organized the first ever Lyme Disease Awareness Walk in San Diego in 2007, and raised over $5000 to promote research and education through the California Lyme Disease Association, and they plan to host another walk this fall; Now, Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Mayor and the Council of the City of San Diego, this Council, for and on behalf of the citizens of San Diego, do hereby proclaim April 2008 to be “Lyme Disease Awareness Month” in the City of San Diego to recognize and applaud the efforts of the Lyme Disease Support Group who seek to protect and educate the people of San Diego on the danger and prevention of Lyme Disease.
