Item 3: Joint Public Hearing adjourned from April 21, 1992 to continue consideration of the City Heights Redevelopment Plan.

Keith Scott gave the staff report on the two items, noting his office had received both verbal and written objections, to which responses have been prepared. In accordance with the direction on April 21, staff had provided Members with revised language regarding eminent domain provisions. However, on April 23, 1992 the Planning Commission recommended that the original language be retained, thus requiring the revised language to be approved by the Agency with a minimum of 6 votes. The Project Area Committee (PAC) meeting scheduled for April 23, 1992 did not officially convene.

Member Hartley read into the record Alternative B of the Manager's Report dated April 24, 1992 to insert, on line 4, Section 603, after "redevelopment": "provided, however, that on commercially-zoned parcels with exclusively residential uses on them, not fronting on El Cajon Blvd., University Ave., 40th St., Central Ave., 43rd St., Fairmount Ave., Euclid Ave., 54th St., Poplar St., Home Ave., 47th St., Wabash Ave., Lincoln Ave., and 33rd St., and in residentially-zoned areas, eminent domain shall only be allowed for: 1) public projects, 2) removal of chronic code violations, based upon findings of fact made by the Redevelopment Agency at a noticed public hearing, which findings shall be conclusive, 3) removal of chronic crime problems, based upon findings of fact made by the Redevelopment Agency at a noticed public hearing, which findings shall be conclusive, and 4) preservation of significant cultural and historical resources as determined by the San Diego Historical Sites Board."

Member Hartley moved that the above language be incorporated into the Plan. Member Stallings seconded the motion.

Items 2 &amp; 3: (continued)

Those speaking in favor of Plan adoption were: Pat Sexton, who favored Alternative B; Linda Bridges Pennington, a former PAC member representing the Lexington Park neighborhood, whose residents oppose any private purpose eminent domain; Valerie Hoffman, a PAC member; Tora Looper, who expressed concern regarding the use of eminent domain in her block of Wabash Ave.; Mary O'Brien; and David Nelson, the PAC Chair, who stated the PAC was anxious to move ahead with the Plan and would accept any reasonable compromise regarding eminent domain. He suggested another alternative which would allow eminent domain in commercial areas on parcels that do not claim a homeowner's exemption.

Those speaking in opposition to the Plan adoption were: Susana Alonso; Lincoln Pickard; Thomas Smith; John Terry Galindo; John Switlik; Maria Feeley; and Dorothy Ross. All speakers opposed private purpose eminent domain, or cited specific neighborhoods such as Belle Isle and Isla Vista, where residents claimed only recently learning that their neighborhoods were included in the redevelopment project area, and wished to be excluded from it.

At 11:54 a.m. the meeting was recessed until 2:00 p.m. to enable attorneys to research several legal issues. Staff was directed to provide Members with written language eliminating private-use eminent domain, for action in the afternoon session.

At 2:27 p.m. Chair O'Connor reconvened the meeting. All Members were present. Deputy City Attorney Allisyn Thomas reported that it would be possible for Members to vote on the Plan adoption, with either Alternative A or B; staff and the Attorney's Office could then be directed to return on May 5 with a resolution excluding certain properties from eminent domain provisions. Any further revisions to the Plan would require returning it to the Planning Commission for approval. However, if adopted today, the Plan could later be amended to address issues of concern.

Member McCarty asked to amend Member Hartley's motion from the morning session, directing the City Heights Development Corporation Board, when formed, to begin the process of removing the Belle Isle, Isla Vista and Kensington-Talmadge neighborhoods from inclusion in the redevelopment plan, at the earliest possible date. Member Hartley concurred with the amendment to his motion, and further directed staff to include in the resolution the exemption of Poplar Avenue.

Member Hartley thanked and commended City staff, the PAC and interested community members for the enormous amount of effort and concern they have shown in bringing this Plan to the adoption stage.

Motion by Hartley to certify the Final Environmental Impact Report; and to approve the Redevelopment Plan, incorporating into the Plan the language in Alternative B; and directing staff to return
