

Ad Hoc Off-Leash Dog Committee Membership

Ginny Barnes, Chair, Ad Hoc Off-Leash Dog Committee, member of Park and Recreation Board, appointed by Chair of that Board, representing community perspective on park planning.

Robert A. Clark, Director of Community Services Department, City of Poway, representing parks in general and the Poway Off-Leash Dog Park in particular.

Doctor Dennis Fetko, behavioral psychologist and human-dog interaction specialist, representing adult and child interactions with dogs.

Chris Gonaver, registered Environmental Health Specialist with the State of California, representing water quality and “zoonosis” (animal disease communicable to humans).

John Eric Holloway, American Society of Landscape Architects, representing disabled access requirements, topography, landscaping and design.

Priscilla McCoy, member of Community Planners Committee, appointed by Chair of that Committee, representing community planning.

Doctor Keith Richter, veterinarian and Diplomat of American College for Veterinary Internal Medicine, representing dog health.

Don Steele, retired City of San Diego park professional, representing knowledge of City parks.

Mark Webb, senior park project manager for open space, County Department of Parks and Recreation, representing open space and natural habitats.

Jim Wright, regional director of San Diego County Animal Control, representing that department.